HELPING YOU MANAGE THE LIFECYCLE OF YOUR ASSETS

Who We Are

Subject Matter Experts

LaSalle PSG engineers are subject matter experts (SMEs) with experience and certifications in every technology area deemed critical to our customers:

- Unified Communications
- Data Center/Virtualization/ACI/SDN
- Security
- Contact Center
- Networking LAN/WAN/WiFi
- Storage Area Networks

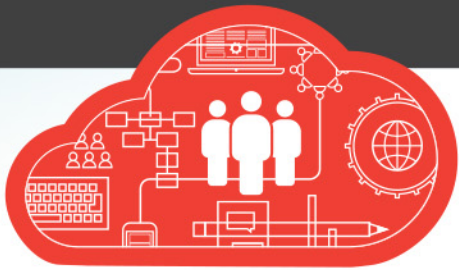

Trusted Advisors

We earn our customers’ trust by treating them right and delivering in difficult situations. Each customer engagement is different, so we work with you to choose the right solutions to meet your organization’s unique needs.

With fortune 500 customers in a broad range of business markets, LaSalle is continually exposed to the latest technology solutions and will bring our experience to the table when working to realize your next set of technology or business goals.

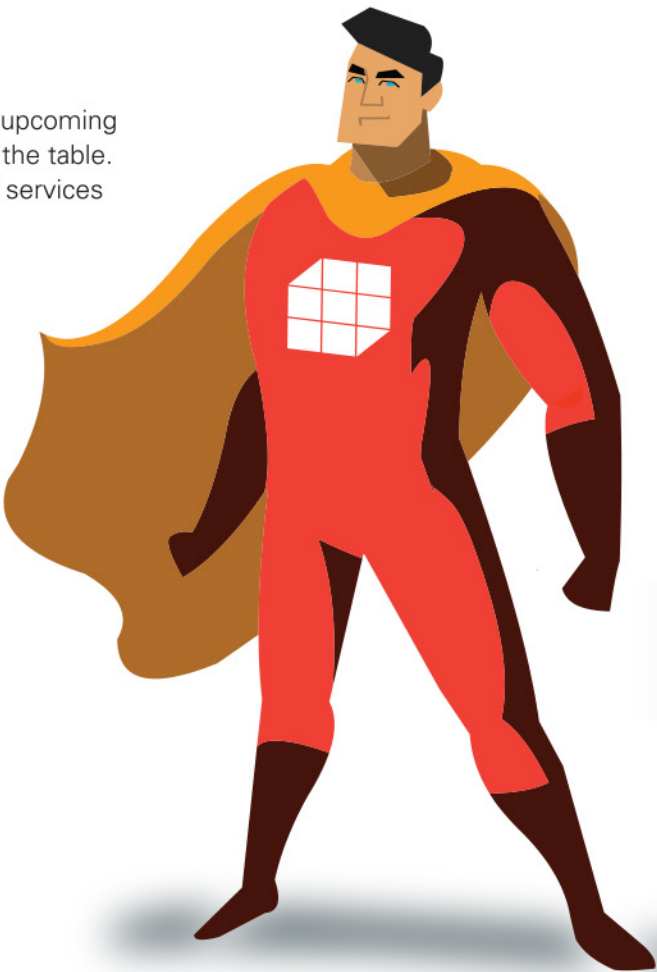

Customer Advocates

LaSalle PSG is available as a customer advocate in an existing or upcoming large project where you need an objective expert on your side of the table. We will help ensure that your statement of work and its included services are properly executed.

“Bring us your worst situations, your toughest issues, and we will resolve them. This is our specialty.”

Services Spotlight

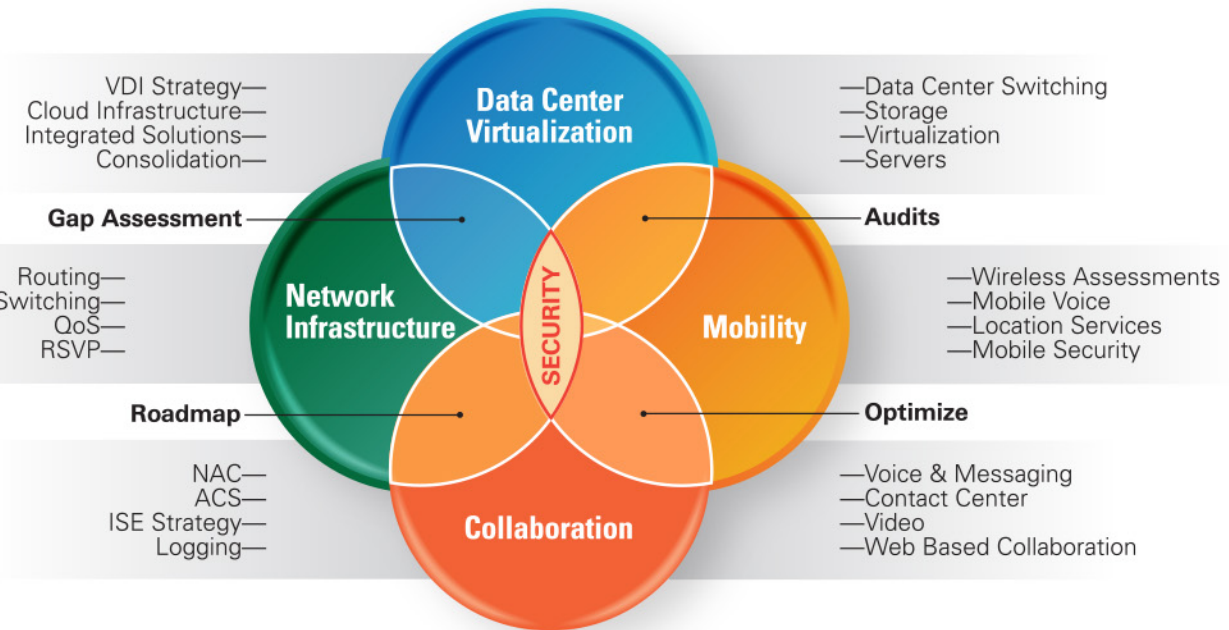

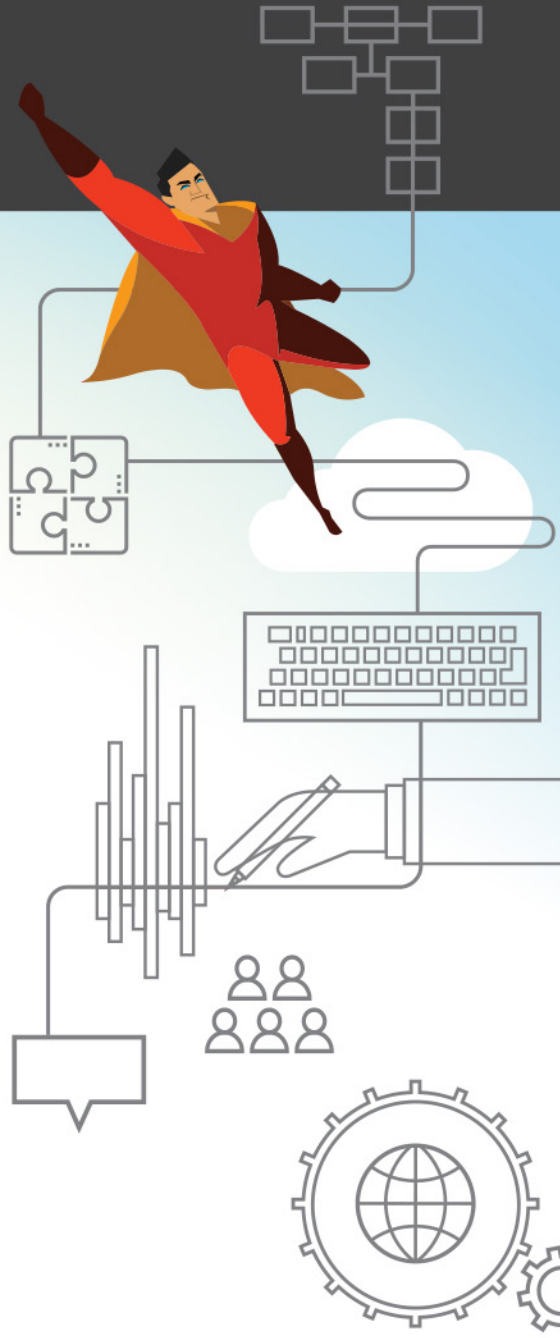

Unified Communication & Collaboration: Elevate your communication system to a truly unified, integrated solution that includes voice, messaging, application integration, online collaboration, and video.

Data Center: Ensure your data center architecture supports a highly mobile workforce, proliferation of devices, data-driven business models, and seamless integration of cloud applications and services. We provide a unified data center architecture that combines compute, storage, network and management into a single platform.

Security: Create a customized approach for each organization that covers all bases within the computing environment, including data centers, cloud services, and mobile devices. Our expert security consultants understand the unique needs of our customers, enabling us to develop and implement comprehensive security solutions that include vulnerability, compliance and risk assessments.

Networking: Helping manage and scale your network to account for increased traffic and numerous connected devices. Moving to cloud computing? Whether deploying on a private, public, or hybrid platform, we provide the agility, security, and collaboration your business needs to seamlessly migrate to the cloud.

Mobility: Evaluating your current environment for throughput, reliability, and security. Providing the technology, services, and plans you need to enable mobile solutions while protecting your organization’s assets and data.

The LaSalle Difference

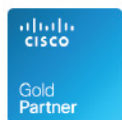

While each customer engagement may be different in nature or technical element, our ability to find the correct solution for your unique business while simultaneously creating business or process improvements that impact your bottom line is what consistently distinguishes LaSalle Solutions from the rest of the market.
