LaSalle Solutions Joins the Cisco Developer Network as Registered Developer

Chicago, IL, November 17, 2011 – LaSalle Solutions, a life-cycle asset management company, announced that it has joined the Cisco Developer Network Program (CDN) as a 'Registered Developer', bringing LAMPSM and LAMP LOOKUP to the Cisco CiusTM, an innovative, highly-secure business tablet created for the enterprise that combines voice, video, collaboration, and virtualization capabilities in a single portable device.

The Cisco Developer Network unites Cisco with third-party developers of hardware and software to deliver interoperable solutions to joint customers. As a Registered Developer, LaSalle Solutions offers a complementary product offering and has started to collaborate with Cisco to meet the needs of joint customers. With offerings such as LAMP Mobile and LAMP LOOKUP, customers can more quickly deploy a broad range of Cisco compatible business applications, devices, or services that can enhance the capabilities, performance, and management of their Cisco network. For more information on LAMP LOOKUP interoperability with Cius go to:

“We are excited to be part of the CDN Program and to be able to deliver our applications to the Cisco community,” said Steven Robb, vice president and general manager of LaSalle Solutions. “LaSalle shares Cisco's strong commitment to customer service and satisfaction and with these products users will experience seamless interoperability with Cius and other Cisco Collaboration tools.”

With LAMP LOOKUP users can simply type, speak or scan a barcode for a serial number or part number of a Cisco product from their Cisco CiusTM and they will be able to view product information, including end-of life dates and migration options, enabling technology departments and business managers to better support planning and efficiencies within their enterprise. Find LAMP LOOKUP on the Cisco AppHQ™ at <https://marketplace.cisco.com/apphq/products/668>.
