LaSalle Solutions exhibits at HFMA ANI 2016 in Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, JUNE 27, 2016 — LaSalle Solutions, a leading provider of technology life-cycle asset management services, is exhibiting this week in Booth 1165 at the 2016 Annual National Institute (ANI) of the Health Financial Management Association (HFMA), June 26–29 at the Venetian and the Palazzo Hotel-Resort/Sands Expo Center in Las Vegas. LaSalle will showcase its leasing programs and new technology solutions at the event.

The HFMA ANI is the premier annual educational event for healthcare finance executives. Each year, healthcare finance professionals from around the country meet for the HFMA ANI to participate in more than 90 expert-led sessions, network with their peers and check out what's new from more than 400 industry suppliers in the exhibit hall.

"We are excited to be exhibiting at HFMA's Annual National Institute," said Robert Metzen, president and CEO at LaSalle Solutions. "LaSalle Solutions serves hospitals and other healthcare organizations across the U.S., so it's important for us to connect with industry professionals to understand their technology needs and provide continued value. As the healthcare industry changes, we must also adapt and work together to drive innovation. The HFMA ANI is a great opportunity to uncover potential problems, implement new ideas and deliver the best possible solutions."

LaSalle Solutions provides its healthcare customers with life-cycle asset management for IT, radiology, laboratory and other medical equipment, with flexible leasing options and technology operations management services such as LAMPSM, LaSalle's cloud-based asset, leasing and maintenance contract management toolset.
